Capsule Select Microphone

Samson's CS Series (Capsule Select) Microphone offers the capabilities of two pro-level dynamic microphones in one versatile package. With easily interchangeable Vocal and Instrument mic capsules, the CS Series mic is perfect for capturing stunning vocal performances or miking your favorite instruments.

The CS Series mic features both the CS1 (vocal) and CS2 (instrument) selectable mic elements. Both neodymium capsules offer a supercardioid pickup pattern, but are further designed to support completely different miking applications.

The CS1 Vocal Microphone is optimized for live performance applications, perfect for musicians, front-of-house professionals and more. Its rounded grill offers the ideal separation between the capsule and performer for exceptional vocal clarity and minimal handling noise. And with a wide 60Hz–18kHz frequency response and high SPL handling, the CS1 can capture the most dynamic of voices with ease.

Specifically tuned for drums, guitar cabinets, brass and other preferred instruments, the CS2 Instrument Microphone is ideal for miking your favorite instruments. The capsule's flat high carbon steel grill allows for a wide frequency response on the low end (50Hz–18kHz). This, along with maximum SPL handling, makes the CS2 ideal for close miking aggressive instrument tones such as drums and brass without overload.
